Message From the President & CEO

Dear Supporters, Partners, and Friends,

The year 2022 marks the beginning of a bold vision, one rooted in compassion, equity, and the belief that access to cancer care should never depend on one's financial situation or geographic location.

Alliance for CancerCare Equity (ACCE) was officially established in 2022 through the dedication and shared commitment of its founding members. What began as a small initiative quickly evolved into a structured organization with a clear mission: to support individuals facing barriers to cancer treatment and to bridge gaps in care across communities.

In this foundational year, we focused on building the core structures necessary to operate effectively; governance, financial systems, partnerships, and early fundraising efforts. At the same time, we began responding to patient needs, supporting individuals in both Ghana and Canada who required urgent financial assistance for treatment.

While our resources were limited, our resolve was strong. Every step we took in 2022 laid the groundwork for the impact we would go on to make in subsequent years.

We are deeply grateful to our founding board members, early supporters, and volunteers who believed in this mission from the very beginning.

Dr Ernest Osei
Founder, President & CEO
Alliance for CancerCare Equity (ACCE)

Our Vision:

No cancer patient is denied high-quality cancer care based on race, religion or a family's ability to pay.

Our Mission:

To advance equity in the cancer care continuum from prevention to survivorship and to serve patients battling cancer and their families with the financial, emotional and educational support necessary to cope with the life-threatening illness.

Who We Are

Alliance for CancerCare Equity (ACCE) is a registered charity organization in Canada and Ghana to advance equity in cancer care. We firmly believe that no person should die of cancer because the family cannot afford to pay for their treatment. Moreover, the financial situation of a patient's family should never dictate their chances of surviving a cancer diagnosis. Thus we have taken on a very ambitious cause to pay for the cancer treatment and related cost of patients who are without the financial means to pay for their treatment.

Our Purposes

- To fund the treatment, travel and related costs for patients with cancer who are without the financial means to receive adequate healthcare services, in Canada and Ghana
- To provide medical equipment for the diagnosis and treatment of cancer patients in non-profit community healthcare centers
- To provide cancer patients and their families with access to mutual support groups and related counselling
- To conduct research into the causes, prevention, screening, diagnosis, control, and management of cancer and other diseases, in Canada and Ghana

About Alliance for CancerCare Equity

Our mission is to:

- Improve access to cancer treatment
